The medals created for Beijing 2022 have been named "Tong Xin", meaning "together as one." Learn more about their design and symbolism at <https://olympics.com/en/beijing-2022/medal-design>

Explore other medal designs using images in the Britannica School "Winter Olympics" resource pack. Use these designs to create your own medal. Come up with a motto or significant meaning for your design.

Tip: When designing your medal think about current events happening around the world (e.g. the COVID19 pandemic), and how the Olympic Games bring people together no matter their race, status or cultural background.
